Thursday afternoon will be spent on Belle Isle Park. The island can be reached by ferry boats which leave the dock, at the foot of Woodward Avenue, every half hour, by Jefferson Avenue street cars going east, and by motorbuses which start from Grand Circus Park, near the Statler Hotel.

The island has a Casino, Zoo, Conservatory, Aquarium, and other places of interest. There will be baseball and tennis games. Those who wish to eat, can eat; those who wish to walk, can walk; those who wish to ride, can ride; and those who are fond of the water can go swimming, canoeing, or boating.

Thursday evening will be "Frat Night." The different organizations of the deaf will hold meetings of their own on this evening. Detroit Division, No. 2, N. F. S. D., will entertain visiting "Frats" at Temple Building (Monroe Avenue, near Farmer Street). The Detroit Association of the Deaf will keep "open house" for all at their hall, 176 Jefferson Avenue, 4th floor. The "Owls" gather in mysterious conclave somewhere in the Statler Hotel. Announcements, regarding the time and places of all such meetings, will be made at the Statler Hotel.

GOING TO DETROIT? ATTENTION!

The leading Passenger Associations, acting for their respective territory, have granted one and one-third fare for the round trip for the Detroit Convention of the National Association of the Deaf, August 9 to 14, inclusive, on the CERTIFICATE PLAN, on condition that not less than 250 holders of properly issued certificates are in attendance at the Convention.

As Certificates are not kept at all stations, see the agent of your home station and find out the nearest point at which a certificate may be obtained. Purchase to Detroit from there.

When purchasing a ticket mention the convention of the National Association of the Deaf and ask for a certificate. DO NOT ask for a receipt. Certificates will be issued with tickets for Detroit, August 5th to 11th.

Immediately upon arrival at Detroit, present certificate to Mr. Thomas Kenney, chairman of the Local Committee, who will be at convention headquarters at the Statler Hotel.

A representative of the Passenger Associations will be at headquarters from 8:30 A.M. to 5:30 P.M. on August 12th to 14th, to validate certificates. Certificates will not be validated at any other time.

Holders of proper certificates duly validated will be entitled to return to starting point over same route at one-third fare, up to and including August 18th.

No certificate will be issued for a ticket costing less than 75 cents. Reduced fare transportation is not honored on some limited trains.

Members of the National Association of the Deaf and dependent members of families of members of the N. A. D. are entitled to purchase tickets on the certificate plan. Join the N. A. D. Share in its benefits. Help the Association.

ADDITIONAL.

Certificates for reduced return fare will not be issued in Western Passenger Association territory, which extends west from Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis.

JAMES H. CLOUD,
President N. A. D.
St. Louis, Mo.,
June 29, 1920.

The De l'Epee Fund had lain dormant during the last fifteen months due to many causes, chief among them being the high cost of living, the numerous "drives" and labor unrest. Despite this, however, the Fund has increased some over $230, and the Fund is bound to grow to good proportions every year. The numerous agents appointed about two years ago, throughout the year are urged to make reports, as it is known that some money had been collected. The others, who have not collected any, are importuned to redouble their efforts and help swell the Fund.

There had been many discussions as to the advisability of changing the object of the Fund, so that to the end, the money so collected for the known and stated object of erecting a statue in bronze as plainly authorized by the National Association of the Deaf in session at Cleveland in 1913, be reverted for some other use. This would not only be a violation of the express behest of the Association, but also a breach of honor so far as the subscribers to the Statue Fund are concerned. The subscribers contributed their money for the erection of a statue and for nothing else.

So we must go ahead and buckle down to the good hard work and attain our object regardless of time. The beaming and benevolent features of De l'Epee will look down on our upturned faces somewhere in this, our beloved country, and once more rekindle our feelings of gratitude to quite a thrilling degree. This will be an established fact, and the National Association of the Deaf will forever remain as sponsor for it.

Yours very truly,
SAMUEL FRANKENHEIM,
Chairman.

LOS ANGELES

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Shuford, of Garvanger, celebrated on June 26th their silver wedding anniversary. Many of their friends, both deaf and hearing people, attended.

The evening was spent in chatting and reminiscence. Some told old stories of Los Angeles in the days of "49," which was interesting. Harry Brimble told of his experience in '89, the year he visited here.

The host and hostess received many varied and useful presents from their friends and children.

At ten o'clock ice cream, cakes, cold tea, etc., were served, and at 12:30 all took leave of host and hostess, wishing them good luck and hope that they will live to see their golden wedding. The following couples present were: Mr. and Mrs. Geyers, Dahl, McMullen, Durham, McChen, O. A. Smith, Panetz, Messrs. Wesley, Walterscheidt and Brimble.

On Memorial Day the boys of Los Angeles and the Shufords took a run down to San Diego, Cal., 125 miles southeast of Los Angeles. They stopped for the night at their friend's residence, and on Sunday with the San Diego boys went to Tia Juana, Mexico, just across the San Diego state line, and attended the horse races. The boys from Los Angeles were: Messrs. Dyson, Mathies, Brimble, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Shuford.

Mr. Frank Shuford has been visiting his old friend on a ranch, ten miles north of San Diego.

On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Cartwright entertained a party of mutes at their San Diego residence, and served a delicious supper; two tables were occupied and all had a pleasant evening.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dahl, of Los Angeles, who was married some time ago, is a happy mother of a fine boy. She is visiting her parents here. Her husband is a civil engineer at San Francisco, their home. She expects to return home within a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ellis, of Walnut Drive, in Watts district of Walnut Park, have been on the sick list for some time. Their daughter has returned from boarding school for her vacation.

Miss Geyer, a hearing daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geyer, of Garvanger, was married to a Mr. Durham, who holds a prominent place in the employ of the San Diego Lumber Co.

Mr. and Mrs. McMullen, of Nebraska, who formerly resided in Salt Lake City, Utah, have moved to Los Angeles and they expect to stay for good. Mr. McMullen was for many years foreman of the cabinet making department of the State School for the Deaf.

Mr. J. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Smith, was married to a beautiful young lady about a year ago.

Mr. Durham, son in law of Mr. and Mrs. Geyer, of Garvanger, is a proud possessor of a new and spacious residence. The Geyers are living with the Durhams in aforesaid new residence, which is within walking distance of the Shufords.

It is rumored that Mr. Briscoe is thinking of moving back to Chicago. OCEAN WAVES.

The Tildens

From San Francisco "Town Talk," July 24.

Three brothers arrived in California in the early fifties—William Percival, Thomas Ware and Edwin Marmaduke Tilden—all doctors like their father, grandfather, and indeed, most of their ancestors, who were located at Great Oak Manor, Kent County, Maryland.

Thomas returned East to take part in the Civil War and was imprisoned as a rabid rebel. Freed from prison, he retraced his steps westward, and resuming his practice in a California town, died peacefully in bed. One of his sons is Marmaduke Tilden, today the lumber king of Alameda County.

Unlike his brother, William P. was a staunch Union Democrat and took part in the turbulent politics of the period, knowing all the leading men of the era, like Broderick, Terry, etc. He was superintendent of the Stockton Insane Asylum and several times a member of the legislature. He married a girl, sixteen years old, who had crossed the mountains in the same train that is made historically memorable by the fact that the Donner party got detached from it and was caught in the early snows of 1845-46. This girl is still living as one of the few survivors of the period. A son of this family lost his hearing in his childhood through scarlet fever, but developed into the great sculptor of the West—Douglas Tilden, who is mentioned in the memorial records as the "greatest living deaf-mute."

The third brother, Edwin, had a more picturesque career. He joined the Walker expedition as doctor, and on the failure of the second filibustering attempt, was never heard of again. One lamentable episode of his disappearance was that, though all the names of all the Tilden ancestors are known and preserved today, Edwin had taken with him an old Bible with family memoranda up to the earliest times, and this precious volume is irretrievably lost. He left his family in Philadelphia. A son named William Tatem became one of the millionaire merchants of the city. It is his son, William Tatem, Jr., who with our Johnston, is upholding the American honors at lawn tennis and is destined to be the world's champion.

Sufficient attention is not generally paid to the fact that, though they are co-related in blood, there are two Tilden branches in this country. Two members of the party departed for America, one settling in Scituate, Mass., in 1628, and another at Great Oak Manor, Kent County, Maryland, in 1648. The renowned Samuel J. Tilden was a descendant of the northern branch. The founder of the southern family was first cousin of Sir Richard Tylden, of Milsted, England, and grandson of Sir William Tylden, of Great Tyldens, Kent County, England. Thus the American Heraldry says that the Tildens (still spelt Tylden in the old country where the baronetcy exists) are one of the few American families who have an unquestioned right to a crest. The motto of the coat-of-arms is "Truth and Liberty."

"William T. Tilden, of Philadelphia, holder of the British lawn tennis championship, was born February 10, 1853, in the Quaker City. He is 6 feet, 1 inch in height, and weighs 160 pounds. He has been playing tennis since he was seven years old. Tilden combines the most up-to-date methods of play, possessing a sound back court game, unusual volleying ability, and a severe service. One of his hobbies has been instructing schoolboy players."—San Francisco Examiner.

"Parke (English) beat Johnston (American), and Tilden (American) avenged the defeat by beating Parke. Tilden is said to be erratic. He would be dull if he were not, because at his best he makes the game look so simple that it seems almost a pity to play it. He is a very great player, who plays the game with the greatest obvious pleasure."—London Cablegram.

LOS ANGELES.

One severe earthquake shock and four minor ones visited Los Angeles and vicinity between dusk last Tuesday evening and five o'clock Wednesday. The first temblor came at 6:45 P.M., just at the dinner hour; a fact that caused scenes of confusion in the downtown portions of the city of Los Angeles. Meals were deserted by some and, as buildings swayed and shook as if rocked by some giant hand, the streets were dotted with people seeking safety in the open. Street cars stopped, motorists hurriedly deserted their cars, and for a few minutes transportation was at a standstill.

Damages amounting to several hundred thousand dollars was the sum total of the results of the quake in districts near Los Angeles.

Inglewood, a suburb of Los Angeles, was most damaged by the earthquake. The main thoroughfare of that town was a mass of ruins. Practically every building in this city suffered more or less from the quake. No one has been injured, but several working men barely escaped. An auto standing in front of one of the Inglewood buildings was crushed to pieces by the falling bricks.

To Mr. Schwarzklose, the San Francisco correspondent for the New York JOURNAL: What do you think of our present population?

Los Angeles has now outstripped San Francisco and becomes the largest city west of St. Louis. Los Angeles now has a population of 575,000, and is the biggest city west of the Rockies. More than that, in a ten year period, Los Angeles has increased 80.3 per cent in population and leaped from the seventeenth to the tenth rank among the cities of the nation.

San Francisco, which got its first boost gold rush of 1848, has been left behind by over 87,000.

There may soon be a bond issue of $4,500,000 for the building at Normal Hill Center of an auditorium and convention hall, which is to be the city's memorial to its men who answered the call to service in the World War. The memorial building will measure 480 feet by 200 feet and will be made imposing by a tower of 246 feet, or 100 feet higher than the present building ordinance permits.

The building is to be of fireproof construction of concrete and steel faced with California granite, and all materials used are to be selected, as far as possible, from those produced in Southern California. It will contain a great auditorium, capable of seating 12,000 persons. The stage will be large enough for any indoor spectacle. The auditorium may be used for dancing, national conventions, and, if necessary, can be divided into three units. There also will be a separate auditorium or hall capable of seating 1,000 persons.

The important feature of the impressive building, that will demonstrate that it is a service men's institution, will be the club quarters, to be used exclusively by service men and conducted by them. These will include office, reading and writing rooms, gymnasiums, shower baths, social hall, and a great banquet hall for the service men, which will seat 2,000. This may be subdivided into four sections.

The plan contemplates erecting the building over Fifth Street, which would give space underneath for autos, either for parking, auto shows, or similar events.

The daughter of the writer, who is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. McLane, on their ranch near Santa Ana, is enjoying the "ranch life." It will be three weeks before she returns home a picture of health.

Being greatly impressed with this wonderful climate and beautiful city. Mr. Robert Davis is strongly tempted to give up the profession of teaching at the Texas School for the Deaf, and reside here permanently. His wife and children are with him here. His brother and the writer were Gallaudet College classmates in '99.

Remaining indefinitely in the Southland is Mrs. Lia Steffens, who returned from several months' visit to her relatives in Montana. She is much interested in the Los Angeles Silent Club.

A much attracted visitor at the Los Angeles Silent Club is Mr. Kenneth Willman. This is his first visit to California, and he is enthusiastic about the climate, the oranges and the moving picture studios. Mr. Willman is a graduate of Gallaudet College.

A very interesting couple at the Los Angeles Silent Club were Mr. and Mrs. Sidney King. They return to Arkansas in time for the re-opening of the Deaf School, where he is an instructor at carpentering.

Accompanied by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Glenn arrived from Iowa lately. In all their travels, they have never found a place that suited them so perfectly as Los Angeles. Mr. Glenn and the writer were old college classmates of '99.

Mr. Arthur Hultene's sister and her husband and their son are in town again. They were very much impressed by California last year, when they first came here. That is the reason that they have decided to make their home here permanently.

John and Willie Davis, who were educated at Oklahoma, came from Akron, O., where they were employed by the Goodyear Rubber Tire Company. They attract much attention among the members and visitors of the Los Angeles Silent Club, on account of their height.

Messrs. Allen and Dwyer, who were formerly employed at Akron, Ohio, were the first ones to be employed by the new Goodyear factory here. Four others have since got work there. Soon all the deaf-mutes will secure employment at the factory.

Mr. Simon Himmelschein is a practical entertainer, though he is a bachelor. He entertained his fifteen guests at a card party at his sister's home in Hollywood a few weeks ago.

A merry party of thirty-five from the Los Angeles Silent Club was conveyed in two big truck autos out to the Orange Park, forty miles from here last Sunday, and had lots of fun both ways. The park is a very beautiful place with many shady oak trees besides a lake. The party was in charge of Mrs. I. Haworth during the day.

Mr. Granville Redmond is out at Catalina Island, making sketches for some notable company, after completing which he will resume his duties with the famous Charlie Chaplin studio.

Mr. Ben Wood, the well-known Oxnard farmer, seems to be the only one from the coast to attend the N. A. D. Convention at Detroit.

DETROIT.

National Association of the Deaf—Convention, 1920.

Under the direction of Mrs. Tenney for the benefit of the convention fund, Mrs. Colby gave a talk of her five months' visit in the South, Saturday evening, July 17th, at the D. A. D. hall. She related how every southerner of any education knows that Lincoln was the greatest friend the South ever had, and his successor (a Southerner by birth) was the reverse.

Southerners know when Lincoln was born, his hardships in early life, the ideals for which he stood, and the time and manner of his death.

But few knew when Davis was born or when and where he died. It is hard to find, who is not glad the Union was saved, and we are one great nation instead of two weaker nations.

How in Georgia near Viadosta, there is a lake which disappears every three years, and then comes back again. How they extract turpentine from the pine trees. In Florida, how it costs more to feed rats than it does to kill them. Why rusty oranges are sweetest; how the cows milked to music yield more fluid; how the mice replace wild geese as weather forecasters; how the mosquito solos are heard nightly; how the sand fleas come out at night, and remove all decaying organic matter, etc., etc. Much credit is due Mrs. Tenney, Ralph Beaver and Mrs. Schneider, for the success of the profitable evening.

A guessing contest was raced on Louis Williams, who disguised as an old beggar woman. It was won by Philip Bednarek, and the prize given was a dollar.

A bery of ten pretty ladies have formed a committee to sell the banquet tickets during the convention week. Please meet any of them, and buy your ticket as soon as you get your feet on the Detroit soil. The price of the banquet meal ticket is three dollars.

The social of July 17th was so far the merriest friendly gathering. Friendship reaches far—it is an elastic word, and it may be stretched to almost any length, to lighten the darkest pathway.

Several young and pretty mothers with babies were present. Young mothers were trained to know modern baby comfort and health, evidently.

One of the babies—pudgy, toothless, brown-eyed, smiling. Her thumb was the most interesting part of her small self.

And the other two babies, who were able to balance on their two little fat feet, played around peacefully every now then, till one and promptly clutched the hair of another and pulled with all its might. The tiny babies have temperament too, and to the amusement of all who could see, the flat cuffs were staged till their mothers separated them. Neither of them cried, as they were too mad.

Susan Heiner, of Kalamazoo, Mich., who had been home from Scranton, Pa. on account of her sister's serious illness, after two months stay away from work, has returned to resume her work for the Henderson Amos Company.

GALLAUDET HOME.

Thus far, the summer days up in this section of the State have been unusually cool and delightful. This locality is the home of the breezes, which are almost constantly sweeping up and down the valley of the Hudson and making it a regular paradise or a favorite haunt for many hundreds of thousands of people who suffer much from the intense and uncomfortable heat of the great metropolis of America. It is true that the great metropolis of America cannot easily be beaten as a first class summer resort, simply because it is surrounded by water and is within a couple of hours ride by trolley or auto to the seashore; but it is also true that during the summer the city is sometimes as warm as an oven.

Mr. E. A. Hodgson, the enterprising editor of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, and Mr. McMann came up here on the afternoon of the third of July, and remained here until the afternoon of the glorious Fourth (Sunday). They had come up on a little business. With them came the twelve-year-old grandson of Mr. Hodgson. He is named after his grandfather, Edwin Hodgson Tucker, and is a fine type of an American boy. The little boy, whom I have known ever since he was a baby in his mother's arms, greeted me as I was on my way to the swing out on the lawn, and in signs, as plain as words could say, said he was, in reply to my query, getting on nicely. He felt at home all the time when he was here, and when he was ready to depart for home, remarked that he hoped to come again. He admired the house dog, Laddie, who is two years old, and said he would like to own him.

Mr. Hodgson, McMann and little Edwin were driven to the trolley road by Mr. Samuel Gardner, and took a car for Poughkeepsie at about 3 P.M., where they boarded one of the fine Hudson River Day boats for the metropolis.

It is something rare, indeed, to take a trip either way on the Hudson River between the metropolis and Albany. At Poughkeepsie the river is broad and smooth, and it is here where many of the various colleges of the country have their boat races in the summer. After steaming about twenty-five miles down the famous stream you come to the growing and prosperous city of Newburgh. Here the river is a mile and a half wide. Shortly after leaving this big drop of water and this grand old town, you come to the celebrated Highlands of the Hudson. The land on either side of the stream is a quarter of a mile high, and as you go steaming down, you may be unconscious of the fact that you are gazing with wonder and admiration upon some of the grandest scenery in the world. You are now within the midst of a great panorama of nature which inspires and glorifies you as you move swiftly past it, and when you emerge from it, you wonder if it was really a "mid-summer night's dream."

After leaving the Highlands you have a view of the far famed Catskills, and then further on you find yourself face to face with the wonderful Palisades of the Hudson, a wall of rock some fifteen miles in length and a thousand feet above the river. Long before you reach the Palisades, you may have had a glimpse of the tower of the famous Woolworth Building from the hurricane deck of your steamer. Some time before reaching the Palisades you are sure you came to a place where the river was over three miles wide, and that your steamer made a halt at Tarrytown. For the river to be as wide as it is here, is something magnificent and imposing, and from the fact that it is a sort of a great lake or inland sea, you may find yourself nursing the impression that not a great many of the inhabitants of either Nyack, a small town on the west side of the river, opposite Tarrytown, or Tarrytown itself, care to go to Coney Island for an outing. At last, after passing the Palisades, you find yourself in the open country and within sight of many of the tops of the great skyscraping edifices of the metropolis. Some time before your steamer reaches the pier at 129th Street, if it is the place you intend to land, you have a plain view of your old school, if you are a graduate or a pupil of the New York Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, which is a yellow Milwaukee brick building, standing on a small tableland, about a hundred and fifty feet above the river and over a thousand feet straight from the shore far below. For the travelers to have a clear view of old Fanwood from the dock of a passing steamer is something grand. It resembles some old castle looking down.

While Mr. I. N. Soper and some of the other men were out on the fallow, picking raspberries down near the farmhouse, on the afternoon of the tenth of July, Mr. Soper's attention, upon returning home, was attracted by some one with a flourishing mustache, lying in a hammock on the porch of the old farmhouse. He felt sure that the person resting quietly in the hammock was the very picture of Principal I. B. Gardner. A few hours later it, somehow, leaked out that Principal Gardner was to stop with brother, Samuel, over night for a change and a little rest. Several of the inmates went down to greet Mr. Gardner and enjoyed a little talk with him. He received all comers cordially and enjoyed their company. He came up here Sunday, ere noon, and I, finding him on the asphalt porch, invited him up to my room, where he had an opportunity to have a look at my new and elegant oak desk and to see the device I use with my typewriter as a substitute for a bell. As Principal Gardner's time was short, he was with me only five minutes. All the time he sat in my revolving chair and said it was luxurious. Going down into the dining room, where he expected to intercept the Rev. John Chamberlain, who was here to preach in the morning, Mr. Soper politely asked him to say grace, and he did so and showed how graceful a sign maker he is. After Rev. Chamberlain had finished his dinner, he went down to the farmhouse immediately, and so Mr. Samuel Gardner drove the two visitors to the station, where they left for the metropolis on a 2 P.M. train.

During the past week half of the men have been out picking berries, and so, as a matter of course, all the folks have enjoyed a dish of berries for supper every day of the week. The men will continue to pick berries, as long as there are berries to pick. The matron has already preserved a large quantity of the berries.

While this correspondent was out walking all by himself on the afternoon of the sixteenth of July, he had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jaynes, of Jersey City; Mrs. Gibson McConnell, of Poughkeepsie; and Miss Kugeler, of Brooklyn, who were on their way to visit the Home and who greeted me warmly. I intercepted the visitors near the farmhouse and accompanied them to the Home. As it was nearly time for dinner and as the visitors were in a hurry to go back to Poughkeepsie for their dinner, at Mrs. McConnell's house, where they have been boarding for the week, and leave for the metropolis in the P.M., they only remained here a quarter of an hour. Mr. Jaynes is a veteran employee of the famous Colgate perfumery works in Jersey City. Mrs. McConnell made known the fact that her husband was slowly dying of tuberculosis in a hospital near Poughkeepsie.

Every evening some of the men may be seen lying in hammocks out on the lawn and enjoying the cool, inspiring, bracing air. They feel that this is a fine place for a summer camping out party. The strong winds sway their hammocks and lull them to sleep now and then.

In the chapel last Sunday Rev. Chamberlain said, among other things, that Rev. J. H. Kent was summering at Lake Catherine, some where in Vermont, and might not be back in the metropolis until early in October. The young preacher is taking a much needed rest. Mr. Smielau will be with him a portion of the time.

The waitress, Lauretta Smith (now Mrs. Aliva Smith) left here on July 1st, and since then nothing whatever has been heard of her. The personnel of the Home made her a few nice wedding presents. From the inmates she received a small silver syrup pitcher, and from the matron, a magnificent bed cover. She also received a present from Miss Barbara Johnston. Mr. R. T. Clinton made her a present of one of his sewing cabinets, a kind of box with a cushion on the top and drawers for thread, etc., which he has been accustomed to make for many years past. As soon as she is well settled down, Lauretta will not forget to make the Home a visit.

ZENOISMS.

Curious this phase of human nature—the periodical stirring within our breast like unto the instinct of an animal which prompts us to hurry to a rendezvous called a Convention for no purpose except to say, "I often heard of you," or have a chance to begin, "Ladies and gentlemen."

Well, the only college in the world is breaking the world's record for turning out most college-made presidents.

Surely, there is but little change in the official personnel of the N. A. D., but it takes a good deal of change for some of us to get to Detroit.

Say, Rev. Cloud, why a "Wilson dynasty," and not a "Gallaudet dynasty?"

A guy who yearns for an office and then complains that the office is expensive, should not have grieved us into electing him in the first place.

Howard wants to sell. Pach wants to profiteer. Hodgson wants to standardize. Meagher wants to repeat votes. They are just the fellows to wish the mail vote mailed back to hades.

For Michigan, the Nad mentions the ballot this wise: "Colby, 88; Lamson, 72." Had the election taken place at Detroit in a Convention, one would have beaten the other, and we would have had an object lesson of the unfairness of choosing an officer through most members in a locality. A city or State cannot dictate to a nation.

Surely, the fault of the too intense centralization of the old method is perpetuated in the present mail-voting system. But it will be gradually gotten rid of by having the election held under the auspices of societies (branches) whose secretaries will report to the head Secretary, who in turn will report to the nation. All this had been, oh! long, long ago, described in the Tilden plan.

It is not generally known that the N. A. D. first came into existence through artistic or idealistic impulses. The conception of the Gallaudet Monument was the greatest and noblest act. Let us be thankful that, in these materialistic times, when officers demand to be paid, the monument was built in 1885 and not in 1920.

Also, when we accept a nomination and get elected, and yet do not appear at the Convention, we may be glad that we do not have to write out a check for a railroad ticket, but still, maybe, a political check is in store for us in 1923.

Our experience is that, in a shop where a number of deaf workers are employed, the honor of the deaf is upheld by a few staunch deaf-mutes of integrity; otherwise, the employers would keep up their old-time prejudices against us. Sad to say and still to tell the truth, those few hard-headed deaf-mutes who would not double cross their employers, are liable to be as unpopular as the fewer "geniuses," who take up the burden of the deaf of the whole world.

When the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL no longer appears, because of the railroad irregularities, we are at last persuaded that the distress of the country is real.

Every man to his trade. Our expert Charley LeClerc is more impressed by the rich growth of California's sea-weeds than by the bigness of its mountains and trees.

Sweetness, clothes and oralism, still comes high. The sign-language alone is cheap, but so are air and sunshine.

Some of us make grimaces to show more face value than we are worth.

Is Roberts complaining at all? Then, why did he not say so, when we were nominating him? And why does he not resign now?

A pool room is a poor place for pooling your ideas about C. A. D., $6.50 a day, Bull Durham, dry S. F., and no work in L. A. Get a decent club room, and do it quick.

Some of the discussions in the Nad about "law" once more reminds us that we are but grown children.

Strange? "Zenoisms" is said to be the art of inflicting the greatest amount of unhappiness on the largest number of knaves and fools, but still we have the cry, "more of it, more of it! Why stop writing?"

Remember—and always remember—that the N. A. D. is gotten up for the welfare of the deaf scattered over the whole country, and not for the convenience or satisfaction of a few officers or any group of men.

In other words, the welfare of a people is the highest law. It supersedes the constitution and by-laws. It alone empowers a president to refuse to accept motions, though of course you are privileged to impeach the correctness of his judgment by means of appeal.

Where, oh, where is the blithe, fanciful and modest Shawyn?

Oh, the flower will blossom at Detroit to wither within a week.

No, my friend, the voice of the deaf is not the voice of God.

Abandon the mail vote, and you will again be swallowing, in a Convention, 99% of nonsense in order to read 1% of real excitement.

How to maintain just proportions between quality and quantity, is the question. That is best done by keeping the mail vote.

It took Roberts and his assistants a month to count the 1000 votes. My friends, how then, can he count 3000 votes for a dozen offices in a single day in open Convention?

Each period has his man of action, and then he passes away. Do not doubt honest Mr. Veditz, when once upon a time, he said: "Tilden has the greatest influence on the American deaf."

At any rate, the Tilden plan is a plant that flowers slowly. Hostile minds are softening and beginning to ask whether the largest membership through the greatest unity of societies is, after all, a simple truth.

Yes, a Cloud may make a spurt and be a glorious sunset of two dreamy administrations.

May be, Byran is right. Dry hands do not break loose from ideas in the air as violently as wet hands do.

Smile and have a photograph ready for the Silent Worker.

PITTSBURGH.

Michael Kornblum, who located in Boston a year ago to engage in business, has been in Pittsburgh, his old home, for some time. He had not been in the best of health and returned to recuperate. An operation which was thought necessary was postponed to a later date, and he is improving with rest and care. It is hoped he will soon be able to resume business.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolshouse and some other Pittsburghers were in Cleveland on the 17th of July, to attend the "Frat" picnic at that place on that date. They report a fine time and enjoyed the cessation from work and confinement immensely. Since then Mr. Rolshouse has been on the sick list, but is "chipper" as usual again.

Miss Theresa Rolshouse is home again after a year's training at Northampton. She attended the convention at Mt. Airy, and will, we understand, take a position as an oral instructor in a southern institution, and will acquire additional experience under most favorable conditions. Before leaving Northampton she had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Coolidge, wife of the Governor, who by the way was a teacher of the deaf for a time before her marriage.

A card from Mrs. Samuel Nichols, who was visiting her homestead friend, Mrs. J. C. Etter, of Lancaster, indicates that she has been having a grand time, and likes the city very much. She noted the quietude of the place and the absence of Pittsburgh's griminess. Mrs. Etter (nee Katy Falck) still has a heart for the old town, however.

Miss Alice Teegarden and Miss Sara Scofield, both teachers at Fanwood, New York, arrived at the Teegarden domicile July 13th, in the Dad's new Ford, which they drove all the way thither without a mishap of any kind.

Mrs. Henry Bardes came home from Bristolville, O., where the family are summering, to attend the Fourth of July picnic here, and remained here visiting her relatives and friends until the 19th, when she was taken back to the countryside by the Teegarden family in the auto. The latter remained up there for several days, taking side trips and getting acquainted with the Ohio topography and rural road. Astubula, Geneva on the Lake, and finally Akron, were their objective points. The Bardeses, of course, helped to make up the party, and the picnics they had were worth the cost of gasoline consumed many times over.

At Akron, the party experienced difficulty getting accommodations for the night. Hotels were full as well as lodging houses. After several failures, one hotel room was secured, but as there were six in the party more hustle was necessary. Friends from Pittsburgh, learning of their predicament, sacrificed their own convenience and took them in. Mr. and Mrs. Zeber and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dann were the good friends in this case, and their hospitality was certainly most heartily appreciated.

Besides the above, we had the pleasure of meeting quite a number of Pittsburghers now employed at the Akron rubber works. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fritzges, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Durian, Mr. and Mrs. Royal Durian, F. W. Farke, Geo. Winch, Ed. Wilgues and Chas. Schiffhauer.

Through the courtesy of Mr. A. B. Martin, we had the pleasure of being shown through the rubber department of the great Goodyear works. Saw the process from the raw rubber to the completed tire—a most interesting process truly.

The Gallaudet contingency at Akron are to have a grand picnic at one of the nearby lakes, August 7th, and delegates and visitors to Detroit will have an opportunity of meeting with them on the way thither, and those intending to go to the Detroit Convention could not do better than stop over at Akron, and get a near view of the great work there, and the congenial people residing there.

Our party was shown many courtesies by the Akronites, and our thanks are due especially to Mr. Dennis Wickline, who took us in charge until we were safely fixed for the night, and gave us much valuable information concerning Akron and the great rubber works there.

It does not appear that there will be a very large delegation from Pittsburgh to the N. A. D. meeting. Jos. Acheson, F. E. Gray and Mr. and Mrs. Leitner are the only ones we have heard of who are sure to go.

G. M. T.

The Rev. C. W. Charles announces services in Detroit on Sunday, August 8th, at 11 A.M. Holy Communion and sermon; 8 P.M., service and sermon. Place—St. John's Chapel on High, near Woodward (No. 360 old). Visitors in the city cordially welcome.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

The Clark Deaf-Mutes' Athletic Club gave one of its old-time picnics last Saturday, July 31st, at Ulmer Park Athletic Field, and an old-time crowd was present to enjoy the field games and track contests in the afternoon and the dancing during the evening. It is estimated that over seven hundred passed through the gate on this occasion.

The baseball game between the Oakland and the Union League nines started at three o'clock and finished at six. It was very well played and exciting. The score was a tie of 5 to 5 in the fifth inning, and again a tie, 6 to 6, for the next four innings. In the tenth inning the Oakland scored three runs, making the final score Oakland 9, Union League 6. The winner received a huge silver cup.

In the games and races that followed, Ludwig Fischer was Clerk of the Course. L. Blumenthal officiated as Starter. The Judges were: Mendel Berman, Louis Hagen, Fred Haberstroh, Edwin A. Hodgson.

The 50 yard dash, for ladies, was won by Gertrude Lefkowitz, Bertha Haft being a close second.

Joe Wiseman won the 12 lb. shot put, La Curto getting the second prize.

In the 100-yards dash, for men, Bradley was first—time 11 seconds. Higgins got off to a poor start but was a good second at the finish.

The dash of 100 yards for married men was an easy win for Bing. The second man to breast the tape was Gabriel.

In three-mile run Kelley set the pace up to the last two laps of the twelve, when Wiemuth passed him, followed by Coggiano, in which order they finished.

Matthew Higgins won the 440 yards run, with John N. Funk second.

The walk of 440 yards, by ladies, was won by Jennie Henry, Miss Wanda Makowski coming in second. Miss Henry should have been ruled out, or relegated to second place, for hopping and skipping. Miss Makowski gave a fine exhibition of true heel and toe stride.

Throwing the base ball for distance brought first prize to Bertha Haft. Miss Richardson was awarded second prize.

All of the events were carried out as advertised, in perfect good order and amid much enthusiasm on the part of the spectators.

The prizes consisted of silver and bronze medals, a shaving outfit, a chataleine bag, and other articles suited to the gentlemen and ladies who were winners in the several contests.

The officers of the Clark Club are: Ludwig Fischer, President; Benjamin Friedwald, Vice-President; James Reddy, Secretary; Albert E. Dirkes, Treasurer; I. Blumenthal, Sergeant-at-Arms.

The committee in charge of the affair were: Joe Zeiss, Chairman, James H. Manning, Isidore Blumenthal, Philip Hoenig and I. Fogel.

XAVIER ALLIED NOTES

Observance of the Feast Day of the Deaf (Ephpheta Sunday, August 8th) will be general with the Catholic deaf throughout our U. S. A. and in European countries. It is a matter of some elation to recall the observance was originated in our own little City of New York by the late lamented friend of all the deaf and deaf pastor of the Xavier Ephpheta Centre, Rev. Michael R. McCarthy, S. J., several years before Pope Pius X. affixed his seal of approbation to Ephpheta Sunday (the eleventh after Pentecost), being designated as the Feast Day for the Deaf. The cause of the Deaf had been brought to the attention of the Holy Father by Archbishop Moeller, of Cincinnati, on a visit to the Vatican.

In accord with the annual observance Rev. Hugh A. Dalton, S. J., will defer for a day a Western missionary trip, and celebrate mass at St. Francis Xavier's Alumni Chapel, at 9 o'clock. It is hoped all Ephphetaans (the Catholic deaf of all New York) will take pains to attend the service, and come prepared to receive Holy Communion.

After breakfast, following the service, Commodore James Loneragan and crew will step lively guiding a major part of Ephphetaans to the subway entrance via the Heights section, from whence, at 153th Street and the Hudson River, they embark on the electric launch "Chief," to spend the day in a quiet nook that Hendrick Hudson, on his first perambulation up the majestic Rhine, set down in his log book as Forest Hill Grove.

A post card from the Falls indicates Miss Emma Gallagher, Miss Mary Reid, Miss Nora Joyce and Miss Rourke, were having a Niagara time. The Lady Ephphetaans incidentally joined St. Mary's Alumni, who held their annual reunion at the Buffalo School.

President Loneragan has rented a bungalow in the Rockaway section. Mrs. Loneragan and the Loneragan kiddies will spend the whole month of August there, piling on tan and pushing back the breakers. The President will week-end, or may change his mind, and join the daily commuters.

Miss Calceine Belle Felver celebrated her thirty-third summer as Mrs. John F. O'Brien, with a week's recreation at Rockaway Park. Fearing one of the baby blimps from Aviation Field at Rockaway Point might carry his best girl away, "Hubby" went with her. They stopped at the James J. Selig Villa, adjoining the Board Walk, and along with "Baby Jim" were kept awake most of the time by Pa and Ma Selig, Joe and Mrs. Joe Knopp, and Betty Marie. A lively time was enjoyed on the porch when Fathers William Cronin, the last of the Seminarians to teach at St. Rose Sunday School, with his mother, and Larkin, and his sister, of Jersey City, paid a visit, and old days at Xavier's and the deaf in general were recalled.

The marriage ceremony of Miss Rosie Rose to Mr. Colman Davis took place on Friday afternoon, July 30th, at Temple Ohav Shalom in Brooklyn. Only relatives and friends of the couple were invited. The bride looked very sweet in a charming white satin dress with a full overskirt, while the groom looked his best in full dress. After the ceremony all were taken in autos to the bride's home, where light refreshments were served. Much merriment was enjoyed by all. The happy couple will spend their honeymoon at Atlantic City and then will reside in Brooklyn. The friends who attended the ceremony were the Misses Catherine Neth, Matilda Stein, Dora Rosenbaum, Sadie Shustack, Leah Granowitz, Mary Mintz, the Mesdames Morrison and Henriques, and last but not least, Mr. Harry Berkowitz.

Allan Hitchcock was not the only President at the S. A. C.'s recent gastronomic handicap. This is brought to mind by a friend of a friend of President Lubin, of No. 23, who was there. Three-term Harry Powell was also present. Running for President so often, lest he contract the Presidentitis malady, he decided to retire. Then there was Past President Pach and Past President Kane. While we are about it—a big jubilee was made in transferring official honors of High Totum from Joe Sullivan Knopp to Johnny Shea. Knopp, too, was an ex-President, for four years carrying the duties of Chief of the Xavier Ephphetaans during the wait for a permanent director. This is not a reflection on President Hitchcock, but an invitation for absolution for the writer's sins of omission and commission.

Following are a few of the New York deaf who will attend the National Association Convention at Detroit: Dr. Thomas F. Fox, Messrs. Alexander L. Pach, Marcus L. Kenner, Samuel Frankenheim, Max M. Lubin, Henry C. Kohlman, Sylvester J. Fogarty, Victor G. Anderson, Harry Gillen, Edwin A. Hodgson, Mrs. Anna Sweedy, Mrs. C. C. McMann, Misses Alice E. Judge, Margaret Sherman, Eleanor Sherman, Anna M. Klaus, Beatrice Osserman, Sarah Putrin, Mildred Schram, Lena Stoloff. Most of them go by the New York Central train, leaving the Grand Central Station at five o'clock P.M., Sunday, August 8th.

Year-and-a-quarter-old Jimmy Selig, Jr., is the biggest little gun among the youngsters of his age at Rockaway Park. He had his photo taken on a recent Sunday in maroon bathing togs, but as yet has not ventured to let his toes touch the waters of the Atlantic on the shore of which he expects to make his home for all time. Possessing the vim and vigor of his proud dad, a fanwood baseball and basketball star in his school days, James, Jr., may one day become mayor of the section in which he was born.

The two sons of Mrs. M. B. Lounsbury, 1st Lieutenant George I. Lounsbury and Sergeant Theo. R. Lounsbury of the 71st Infantry, New York National Guard, have just arrived home from a two weeks sojourn at Camp Upton, Long Island. The Sergeant has been at East Marion, Long Island, the past six weeks, but was ordered to Camp Upton July 15th. He will leave for East Marion the early part of week and will not be home till early in the fall.

Messrs. Charles C. McMann and Edwin A. Hodgson and Dr. Thomas F. Fox, went up to the Gallaudet Home in the new Ford Depot Auto, purchased for the Home, on Thursday, July 29th. The trip from Broadway to Wappinger Falls was made in a little over three hours. They had luncheon at the Home, returning by the Day Line steamer from Poughkeepsie.

Miss Sarah Kremen is spending a month at Buffalo, N. Y., for her vacation. She recently went by automobile to Niagara Falls, and went under the falls at the Cave of the Winds. She also went over to the Canadian side of the wonderful and awe-inspiring cataract.

Mr. H. Humphrey Moore, the famous deaf artist, sailed for France on the Aquitana last Saturday. He bids his friends "good bye." He felt very happy in the thought of getting back to his studio after an absence of six years.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Koehler (nee Caroline F. Krauss) announce the birth of their son, on the 19th of July. Mother and baby are doing fine. His weight is 9½ lbs. His name is Frank.

Ardine Rembeck and his two daughters, Misses Verna and Stella Rembeck, will join Mrs. Rembeck and little Ruth in Ohio next week. They will be away a month and will attend the reunion at the Ohio Institution.

Victor Anderson was at Steeplechase Park last Sunday with friends, and had a jolly time. He will go to Detroit, after a visit to Chicago and other places, for the convention.

Miss Louise M. Radlein is spending her vacation at Center Moriches, L. I., and is enjoying the bathing at the beach, and other summer pleasures.

Accompanied by the Brewer sisters and Miss Fousadiser, Mrs. Mineker (nee Clara DeRouville) attended the picnic and games at Ulmer Park last Saturday.

West Virginia Association of the Deaf.

ROMNEY, W. VA., July 20, 1920.—The fourth meeting of the West Virginia Association of the Deaf will be held at the West Virginia Schools for the Deaf and the Blind at Romney, W. Va., September 26-28th, 1920, to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the School for the Deaf. All former pupils and deaf residents of the state will be provided with board and lodging at the school at the rate of five dollars ($5.00) from Thursday evening until Monday morning. They can come to the school on Thursday afternoon and claim reservations, but no meals will be served on that day. The first meal will begin with breakfast on Friday, and the last one will end with breakfast on Monday. All will leave the school on Monday before dinner (or as soon as the session adjourns sine die). Non-members or visitors will be charged fifty cents each for lodging and fifty cents for each meal.

All are requested to make their reservations to Mrs. Chas. D. Seaton, Chairman of the local committee, Romney, W. Va., at a date as early as possible, and to register upon arrival in town.

In case you should prefer to put up at a hotel down town, write and state exactly what you wish to pay. We will do our best. The rate at the Hampshire Hotel (formerly the Century Hotel) is $4.00 per day and up, and at the Romney Hotel, it is $3.00 and up.

Four trains run between Romney and Green Spring daily, except Sunday, as follows:

Leave Romney DAILY at 5:45 A.M., 8:35 A.M., 11:20 A.M. and 5:25 P.M.

Arrive at Romney DAILY at 7:45 A.M., 10:55 A.M., 2:15 P.M. and 8:30 P.M.

SUNDAY ONLY, leave Romney at 11:20 A.M. and return at 2:15 P.M.

It is with regret that we announce the fact that Superintendent F. L. Burdette has tendered his resignation to take effect as soon as his successor is appointed and qualifies. This will in no way affect the meeting of the association. Plans and arrangements for the meeting will go on as though nothing unusual will happen. We hope that he will be present to receive us, even if he should not be connected with the school in an official capacity when the association meets. In any event we have no doubt that the welcome will be as cordial under his successor whoever he may be.

Make up your mind to attend the convention and see your old school once more. Won't you believe us when we tell you that Romney is not the same sleepy old town that it used to be? Come and see for yourself. Write to your chums, classmates, schoolmates and friends (do not even forget your beau or sweetheart) and tell them to come and meet you at Romney. If you cannot come yourself, tell them to attend the convention and write you about it after it is over. Be sure that you will miss a good time if you fail to come. Come by all means. Another opportunity to imagine that you are coming back to school as of old may not present itself again. Boost the convention and urge your friends to attend it. The larger the attendance, the merrier the crowd.

Send fifty cents to the treasurer and join the association as the next best thing to show your interest in it in case circumstances prevent you being present in person.

Very sincerely yours,
CHAS. D. SEATON, President.
OREN CARMY, Secretary.

July 24, 1920.—Honor to whom honor is due. The printer got the name of the $1,000 subscription to the Building Fund wrong. It should have been Mrs. Rebhun, and not Rhuu as printed.

We shall esteem it a favor if members of the N. A. D. will report to us the death of any member in their community since the last meeting of the Association, at Hartford, Ct., in 1917. Simply drop us a postal card, giving name and State. The Committee on Necrology desires a full list of deceased members, to report to the Detroit Convention, on Thursday morning, August 12th.

Mrs. Mary Daily, aged 89, a highly esteemed resident of Crooksville, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Tedrow, at 4 o'clock Tuesday, after a protracted illness due to pneumonia and complications. She is survived by one daughter, William Daily and Mrs. W. E. Tedrow, of Crooksville and also one brother, Joseph Moore, of White Cottage. The funeral was conducted from the Tedrow home, with Rev. C. P. Stotler officiating. Interment was made in the Crooksville Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Reinhardt and children, of Sharon, Pa., are spending a couple of weeks with their folks in Utica and Newark, Ohio. While there Mr. Reinhardt vent over to Zanesville for a day recently, and was the guest of Mr. Albert Horn. His host took him around to the local deaf to form their acquaintance, and also showed him the interesting places of the city. Mr. Reinhardt has a good position as a bushelman at a dry cleaning establishment in his town. He and family will return home on the 26th inst.

The Zanesville district, of which Mr. Albert Horn is the captain and Mrs. Laverna C. Humphrey and Mr. Warren Shaffer are assistants, has $400 in bank for the Men's Cottage building at the Home for the Deaf. That is 100 per cent over their quota. They are not going to rest now, but will try to get it over $500 before reunion time. Mr. Horn believes that the Ohio deaf will collect $30,000 by fall. That can be accomplished if every district will treble its quota.

Deaf mutes of the city will be special guests at the annual picnic of the Epipheta Sodality in Ottawa Park, Sunday.

Mass will be celebrated in St. John's University at 9 A.M., after which breakfast will be served in the refectory. Cars will leave Superior and Orange Streets at 11 A.M.

The committee in charge includes Mrs. J. A. Mikesell, Miss Agnes Niewoll, Miss Florence Westenhuber, Mrs. E. J. Arnaud, Mrs. A. J. Girardot, Mrs. William Canning, Mrs. Clarence Lapp, Mrs. Louis Wolfgang, Mrs. C. P. Hillebrand, Miss Kate Wernert, John Gillespie, Malcolm O'Sullivan, William Canning, P. T. Curtin and J. A. Piazza—Toledo Times.

Auto Dreyer quit the Overland Wm. Co. and Toledo, and is now working with the Lillie Window Sill Glass Co., of Columbus.

The 5th of July picnic at the Home cleared for the Men's building $92.

The Board of Administration for some time past has allowed members of Civil Societies to use the swimming pool of the school on certain days of the week. A teacher of swimming is in charge of them, and Emory Wood, a former pupil, is door keeper. The Board has realized over $1,000 from this source.

A big drawing and social is scheduled to be pulled off by the Toledo workers for the Home Cottage Fund, on September 16th, at Kapp Hall. Nathan P. Heniek is captain of his district in the drive, and states that though the work has been a bit slow to date, Toledo will more than reach its quota.

Rev. Charles held services in Toledo on the 16th. Quite a good-sized crowd was in attendance.

Nathan P. Heniek and Robert Nathanson spent from July 4th to 12th in Chicago, with friends. Of course it's none of our business, but we have a hunch that there'll be wedding bells chiming for the two in the near future.

Quite a crowd of Toledoans will attend the Reunion at the Ohio School for the Deaf in September. Reports indicate that there will be a record attendance at the Reunion, as everybody who can possibly manage to do so will be among those present.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Dennis are now living at 271 E. Fremont Street, Fostoria, Ohio. Frank has a good position with the Fostoria Pressed Steel Co., and seems to like Fostoria very well.

B. E. Noble and family are now living in Canton, where he is employed as an inspector in the Timken Roller Bearing Co. plant. Mr. Landner, of the employment department of this plant, told Mr. Noble to bring all his deaf friends in and the company would give them steady work at good wages. Any deaf people wishing to work in this plant are about sure of being employed. The pay is 45 cents per hour, with more pay for overtime and double for Sundays. Those desiring to learn more about the opportunities offered the deaf here may write to B. E. Noble, 503 Belden Avenue, S. E., Canton, O., or to the Employment Department, Timken Roller Bearing Co., Canton, Ohio. A. B. G.

July 31, 1920.—The program for the Convention of the N. A. D. on the whole is attractive, varied, and should be interesting, the entertaining part especially will appeal to all. A great deal of business is crowded into each session, and it will require strenuous work to accomplish it in the given time. However, if long winded speeches, the reading of long papers, will be the order as has marked former meetings, not half of the work will be completed. Let us hope brakes will be turned on all extended talk. No paper nor address should occupy more than fifteen minutes. About ten minutes would be more proper.

Another matter of importance is attendance at meetings. Past experience showed that the attendance at the opening of the Conventions had full houses. After that less interest was shown to business, and most of the work devolved upon those present—the reading of papers and talks fell more upon vacant seats than minds and seeing eyes.

Our Detroit friends have wisely and abundantly and generously provided for their guests' entertainment in a manner not interfering with the business part for which we are gathered in their city, and so let us devote ourselves earnestly to each in its proper time. Ohio being so near to Detroit will have a good representation. Columbus members will be there to the number of a dozen or more.

Mr. David Friedman and family have forsaken Cleveland and moved out into the country, eighteen and half miles distant from the city, and they are charmed with the place too, and sorry they did not come sooner. They have plenty of elbow room now and enough to spare. They have a large garden and are raising all varieties of vegetables. Mrs. Friedman takes delight in swinging the hoe and surveying all the nice growing vegetables she will feast the family upon during the winter months, and thereby cheat the profiteer of some of his gains. They moved to the new place last June, because the house they lived in was sold to another party, and they had to vacate, as the buyer wanted to occupy the premises himself.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Roberts, of Washington, D. C., are spending part of their vacation with Mrs. Roberts' mother in Cleveland.

Mr. J. C. Winemiller, who has been a teacher in the Colorado School for the Deaf, since he graduated from Gallaudet College in 1904, has resigned his position and moved with his family back to Cleveland, Ohio. This step was taken at the earnest desire of Mrs. Winemiller's family, as they desired her nearer to them. Mr. Winemiller is doing clerical work in the office of his wife's brother. The Cleveland deaf welcome this acquisition in their midst again.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins S. Sawhill were given a surprise wedding shower on the evening of the 14th inst., by the Cleveland deaf. A large number were present. Mr. and Mrs. Sawhill were recipients of many and useful articles for their kitchen. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening, and on departing for their homes the newly-weds were showered with well wishes for long and happy lives. Mrs. Sawhill is already a favorite among the Cleveland deaf, because of sociability and interest she takes in them.

The Zell family went by auto to Springfield, Ohio, Thursday, on a visit to relatives, and will remain to the end of the week.

More good news from Wapakoneta, or Lima District. Mr. Harley Goetz reports $900 collected, and the team is still working for more. Its quota is $350, so it has doubled it, and by reunion time hope to have trebled the amount. The Columbus District has doubled her quota, so has the Cincinnati, and both are putting forth energies to go far ahead of their shares.

Mr. Joseph Neutzling, besides being a good shoemaker, is also an adept in plastering, and during vacation does the plastering in the school's building where needed. This vacation is no exception. He has gone over the school building and boys' side of the main building and will be through with other parts by reunion time.

Glover Burcham, wife and son, of Proctorville, O., visited the school last Saturday, the guests of Mr. Elasco. He was on his way to Akron, to visit relatives. Also to call on Joseph Turvey and family in Cleveland. He is on his vacation. He will stop in Columbus on his way back to Proctorville. He works for McColl Granite Co., Hunting, W. Va., being foreman.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Conkling will spend a two weeks with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Conkling, at Terrace Park, O., and the parents of Mrs. C., at Arcanum, O., leaving August 7th.

John P. Fryogle is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Z. Fryogle, on their farm, at Columbiana County. A. B. G.

FANWOOD.

There have been a lot of improvements in different buildings here during the summer. Electric light is to take the place of gas light in the lower part of the main building, and will be ready to illumine by the time this school begins its new term.

The old and one-windowed tailor shop has been transferred to a better, airy and light room, in the basement of the Academic Building. The painting of fire escapes of the trades schools building has been completed.

Misses Sarah Cray, Orama Bunch, and Selma Lesser, "summer" girls, gave their willing hands to help fold the JOURNAL last week.

Edward Malloy, a pupil here, came into the Printing Office one day last week, to pay a very short visit with Robert Fitting. As it was nearing the closing hour of the office, Robert took the visitor to his aunt's house in Brooklyn. After a pleasant supper, the visitor entertained the folks with card tricks and jokes.

Edward Malloy is now employed for the summer by a big butcher firm on 39th Street and 11th Avenue.

Since July 17th, little Perry Schwing, deaf son of deaf parents, has had been staying with Mrs. Emma Hoffman, once a Kindergarten boys' tutor, at her home in Philadelphia, Pa. He is expected home the middle part of August.

Among those returned to duties from their vacation are: Mr. George Davis, Mr. Edwards and Mrs. Mary Slockbower.

On July 29th, accompanied by Miss Alice Judge, Mrs. Mineker and son, and Miss Eunice Brewer, enjoyed a visit at Fanwood.

Little Christopher Ferguson went home last week.

Bad Fate has come to the Newburgh farm, where Misses Eva Miller, Sonnie Roven, Thurlia LaMour and Anna Hoffman were summering last week. For this reason they had to return home. They said that a two-day storm destroyed the farm crops in the neighborhood, but nobody had been injured or killed. None of them, except Sonnie Roven, wanted to discontinue the beautiful dream, so they are now again on another farm in Pawling, N. Y., doing the wedding and catering.

Mr. Anthony Capelli returned from his pleasant vacation, Monday, July 26th. During the period he had seen "Babe" Ruth making seven home runs at the Polo Grounds.

Herbert Van Orman, a Fanwood graduate, dropped into the Printing Office, Saturday, July 31st, to become a JOURNAL subscriber.

George Ryan, a blind pupil here, liked the job of folding the JOURNAL, which he did last week, and expects to have more of it during the summer.

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James S. Reider, 1588 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Evening Bulletin, June 21st, reported the following unfortunate accident:

A deaf young man was drowned despite a heroic attempt at rescue by his life-long friend, also deaf, who had twice before saved him from drowning.

The drowned man was Lawrence Sullivan Collier, twenty, 2619 N. Colorado Street.

His friend is Paul Dugan, nineteen, 2701 N. Croskey Street.

The tragedy occurred in view of twenty boys and ten girls on an outing at Almonesson Lake near Lake View, Heights, N. J., late yesterday. Dugan had just left the water after a farewell swim when he saw his chum in distress in deep water.

He swam out to Collier and seized one of his hands as he went down for the third time. Dugan lost his grip in the struggle and Collier sank. Dugan dived twelve times without finding his chum. The body was recovered late last night.

The two former occasions in which Dugan saved Collier from drowning were at Brandywine Springs, Del., in 1915, and at Clementon Heights, N. J., in July, 1919. Both had attended school at the Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Mt. Airy, and returned a few days ago from Akron, Ohio, where they were employed by a rubber company.

A letter for Collier arrived today at his home from his sweetheart, Miss Grace Schooley, of Olyphant, Pa., whom he was to marry in the fall. He was a member of the Church of Our Lady of Mercy, Broad Street and Susquehanna Avenue.

About a half hundred of local deaf took a day's outing at Atlantic City, on Saturday, July 24th. It was designated Frats Day, with a view to bring a large number of Frats together at the shore.

Miss Sterek, a teacher of Tennessee, was a visitor at All Souls' on Sunday, July 25th. Mr. Lipsett read service in the absence of the Pastor.

Mr. Henry J. Pulver returned from Poulney, Vt., some time ago.

Mrs. Theodore B. Scudder (nee Pfeffer, of Pottsville and Altoona), is spending her vacation in Reading, where her husband is employed in a building operation of five hundred houses for the next two years with Mr. William Booth, both well known deaf of Wilmington, Del.

Mrs. Scudder and son will return to Wilmington this week, after a week's stay at Pottsville, Pa.

Mrs. J. S. Reider returned from Hanover, Pa., where she visited her daughter, on July 25th, a week earlier than was expected.

Miss Agnes Craig, of New York City, has been spending the month of July with her sister, Mrs. John McIlvaine, at Magnolia, N. J., about fourteen miles from Philadelphia. We understand she is to return to New York on about August 1st.

Mrs. Harry E. Stevens has gone to Carlisle, to see her sister. Her stay will be short.

Mrs. Daniel Paul spent a few days from July 23d, with Mrs. Sarah Scott at Ocean City, N. J. Mr. Paul came on to meet her on Saturday, and then both returned on Sunday. Mrs. Scott remains with her sister at her cottage all summer.

Mr. O. Krause, of Allentown, returned home from Wildwood, N. J., where he spent a week's vacation recently. He met Rev. Mr. Dautzer down there and enjoyed his stay.

Mr. Henry J. Pulver conducted a service in Allentown, on Sunday, July 18th, and was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. O. Krause.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross V. Mohr left Philadelphia for an extended absence on July 18th. They will visit a number of places in the middle west, the list comprising Niagara Falls, Cleveland, Toledo, Sherwood, Mich., Detroit, Chicago, and then go back to Ohio to attend the reunion, after which they will return East.

Mr. William V. Brogan will start West, about August 1st, for an extended trip.

As far as we know at present, there will be six Philadelphians in Detroit during the coming convention.

The mother of Miss Dora Kintzel passed away on Thursday, 22d of July. She was quite advanced in years, and had been an invalid for several years. A number of deaf people viewed her remains at an undertaking establishment, on Sunday evening last. We extend our sympathy to the members of the family in their sorrow.

Miss B. Newman and family, of Baltimore, have returned home after two weeks spent at Remlik, Va.

INFORMATION

FOR NEW YORK RELEGATES TO THE N. A. D. CONVENTION AT DETROIT, AUGUST 9 TO 14, 1920.

The following has been prepared by the Committee on Transportation appointed at the recent meeting of the New York Branch of the N. A. D.:—

THROUGH RAIL LINES TO DETROIT, FROM NEW YORK CITY.

All Rail ticket from New York to Detroit:—New York Central, $23.20; Pennsylvania R. R., $23.20; Lehigh Valley, $21.91; Del., Lack. & Western, $21.91. Pullman Car accommodations extra—$4.62. All of above rates include war tax.

The following is suggested as a quick all-rail route:—

New York Central—Train No. 7 (The Wolverine), leaves New York at 5 P.M. daily (Standard Time) reaching Detroit at 7:40 A.M., next day.

The Great Lakes Transit Corporation operates a line of steamers between Buffalo and Detroit. The steamer "Junia" leaves Buffalo at 10:30 A.M. (Eastern time) on Sunday, August 8th, and arrives in Detroit, Monday, August 9th, at 7:00 A.M., early enough for the opening of the Convention. The fare is $9.50 one way and the round trip is $18.00, exclusive of war tax, and includes meals and a berth.

N. Y. Central trains to Buffalo, that afford ample time to get the Lake steamer are:—

Western Express (No. 23) leaves New York at 6 P.M., reaches Buffalo at 6:30 A.M.

Buffalonian (No. 33) leaves New York at 9:30 P.M., reaches Buffalo at 8:20 A.M.

From New York to Detroit via Day Line Boat to Albany, then by rail to Buffalo, and Great Lakes Boat to Detroit, costs $19.71. Meals extra on the Albany Boats, but berth and meals are included in the cost on the Lake boat. Tickets can be purchased for the through trip in New York, and reservations made on the Great Lakes Boat.

CHICAGO NOTICE.

Those who contemplate going to Detroit for the Convention of the National Association of the Deaf, August 9th to 14th, by way of Chicago, are hereby extended cordial welcome to stop over enroute or returning in Chicago.

On Saturday, August 7th, the Pas-a-Pas Club of Chicago will have its annual outing and picnic at Polonia Grove, 4600 Archer Avenue. The visitors can find their way by calling at the Club headquarters, 61 West Monroe Street, third floor. The club rooms will be open to visitors all week days and Sundays.

The Silent Athletic Club, at its own handsome home, will entertain the visitors, Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays. Address of the club, 5536 Indiana Avenue.

All Angels' Church for the Deaf, 6122 Indiana Avenue, is open on Wednesdays, supper at 6:30 o'clock. Sunday services at 10:30 A.M.

The Chicago Methodist Mission, in the Methodist Church Building, south-eastern corner of Washington and Clark Streets, has Sunday Services at 3 P.M.

There are many interesting places in and around Chicago worth seeing.

The Wabash Railroad has offered car accommodation for delegates from the West and Chicago. The party leaves at 11:25 P.M., Sunday, August 8th. Those from the West may have tickets read via Chicago via the Wabash Railroad. Arrival time at Detroit, 7:45 A.M.

Those wishing to join the party should notify me beforehand so as to insure the accommodation of the car offered by the Wabash.

GEO. F. FLICK, Chairman Chicago Publicity Committee, 214 E 55th Street, Chicago, Ill.
